

www.insightsfromspirit.com

In the World of Spirit who Answers your Questions?

By Maurice Barbanell 2010

Question: When in the world of spirit, if you have a question, who answers it?

You are referring to a question which you have whilst you are on the material world.

No, in the world of spirit, if you have a question, a picture appears, so who actually gives you the answer? Does it go to a group of people or just one?

If I have a question I seek guidance from those who are more enlightened than I. If the people who are in my immediate surround do not have the knowledge to assist my question I can then move into the Halls of Learning and within the Halls of Learning there is a facility in which you can convey your questions to a higher power. The higher powers are always available for answering any questions which you can request answers to and then you can consider the responses. You do not get your answers from those who are immediately around you because the people who are immediately around you are of the same vibration of purity, so therefore they have a similar understanding as you do yourself.

We all have our guides and our mentors. My friend Silver Birch is still my guide and my mentor. If I have a problem which can only be answered by a higher being, a higher vibration, then because of our connection the very thought that I have is conveyed to his being and in an instant he would then convey the answer to my question. We are not restricted to space and location as you are on the Earth Plane. At the moment you are contained within a physical body. I am occupying a physical body. I have to convey my thoughts to you by my vocal cords, or to be more correct from the vocal cords of the medium. But when you are not contained within the physical, you have an immediate connection with your friends who are on a higher plane. You can have that connection now. Each and every one of you can. You have a problem? Your guide, your mentor is there.

My medium has his guide. We all have our own special person who has elected to devote the period of time that you are upon the Earth Plane to help you in any way that they possibly can. They are not there to take your problems away, but they are there to help you. You can always be helped. Whether you listen, whether you respond to the help which is given, is your free will. Do not underestimate the value of free will, because without free will you cannot have advancement, you cannot have an overcoming of the negative vibrations which surround the Earth Plane.

It is only through your free will that you prove how you have advanced or whether you have suppressed and allowed yourself to be dragged down by the negativity of the situation, because that's all it is. It is only a situation which will be either overcome, or it will be a lesson which will have to be completed again at another time.

Because you have to overcome these lessons, you have to learn from them. So for pity's sake my friends, learn from them in the first place. It will make your life so much easier. Why do we make our lives so difficult? We have been told what we have to do. We have been told how we have to live. We have been told the love which we have to have within our being. Why do we make it so difficult and I included myself in this. I am no saint. That is a strange word 'saint'. It is a word which you immediately classify a being as a person of complete and absolute purity. If you could only see the being, the true being of some of the people they have classified as saints. You would be mortified. Some of them are far less than saintly.

Maurice Barbanell
November 2010