

What did Maurice see When he Left the Earth Plane?

By Maurice Barbanell 2011

A white light from the recorder accidentally shone and caught Maurice's eyes.

I saw a white light. I thought maybe I had passed over. Well they always tell you when you pass over you see a bright white light, so I thought my time had come. (A Joke on Maurice's part)

So what did you see when you passed over?

I didn't see a white light. I do feel cheated.

Maybe you didn't expect one.

You have just made a statement of eminent fact which was actually far more enlightened than the joking way that you actually gave it out, because if you expect to see a bright white light that is what will be given to you to see. You who are enlightened do not have to go through the farce, the illusion, of going through a tunnel, going through the mist, seeing this eminent light in the distance which you walk to because you feel that this must be the God, the heaven which the religions of the Earth Plane have promised you. You expect to see this white light. It doesn't matter what religion you have been taught, they all expect this eminent being who is supreme white light to be there to greet you. What a load of poppycock! How many white lights do you think we've got over here? But if that's what people expect to see, that's what we provide for them. After all it does not matter really. It's only a means to an end.

In my case I saw my guide, I saw my mother. I did not see my beautiful wife because she was still on the Earth Plane. Because I was enlightened I saw the people who I recognised and I immediately understood what had happened and therefore there was no need for this illusion of this bright light, this golden star for me to walk towards. I think I might go back a bit and live it all again because I feel that I must have missed out. The people from over here talk about that experience as being one of the most wonderful illuminating things that have happened to them and I never had it.

You can create it.

But it would not be the same. It would not have the same effect.
We can create any perception of reality that we wish to.

Well you'll have to be reborn onto the Earth Plane

Unfortunately I do not feel that I will be allowed to re-enter the physical plane again.
