Are our Guides on the Same level as we are or are They on a Higher Level?

By Maurice Barbanell 2011

Are our guides on the same level as we are or are they on a higher level?

If you consider that statement and break it down, the answer would be obvious. How can your guide be on the same level of evolution or purity to yourself because if they were they could not be a guide, could they? They could not show you the way forward. It is like going to a class and sitting for a teacher. You get knowledge from that teacher because he has evolved in his learning to a higher plane. You could not learn from other people who are in that class who are at the same level of learning as you are yourself. So therefore it would be unreasonable to place somebody as your guide who has only evolved to the level that you have. So, in every situation, and I take that without any thought of being corrected, in every circumstance the guide who is there to enlighten you during your journey through the Earth Plane has evolved to a higher level than you have yourself.

Yes that does makes sense.

And there is always a connection and therefore there is often a connection which has been going on for many, many years. Our medium and his guide have been together for many thousands of your years. At least three. I say at least three because that's the figure that I have been told. If it went on before then I do not know. And you look at that in the terms of the Earth Plane and you think my word they have been friends or communicators for three thousand years how can that be, but really it's only a twinkling of the eye. It is in time a minuscule amount. Don't ever judge time within the confines of your ability to understand its perception whilst you are contained within the physical. Once you leave the physical, time is not a tangible commodity. Time then does not exist. If you look upon the example which I gave, three thousand years, and you think my word that is an eternity but then compare that to a hundred million years. It is merely a speck of sand in the desert. The evolvment and devolvment of our beings has occurred many hundreds of millions of years ago. So do not concern yourself with this short passage of time which you occupy the Earth Plane. Very important whilst you are in the physical and time becomes the ruling item within your life. How often have I heard "I wish I had more time" or "I haven't got time to do that". If you haven't got time wait until you come over here. You've got all the time in the world! Time is not a problem! So therefore do not concern yourself. Live your life to the full within the confines of your ability in the timeframe that you have got.

I have a question for you What would be the point of having a guide who was less evolved than you? What could you learn from them?

Now I understand. I just hadn't really thought about it in that way.
