Our Guides Do Not Judge Us

By Maurice Barbanell 2012

My way of delivering the teachings that go forward is intended to be in an informal way, so I do hope that I am achieving that?

Yes. Definitely.

Well I am pleased because otherwise my guide and friend would chastise me. Which is a lie. He would never chastise anybody. It's amazing when you get to the elevated level that he has achieved that it doesn't matter what you do he always forgives you. I tell you, you feel really bad when he does that. You just say, just tell me I've been a bloody idiot but he doesn't. He just says bless you my son. Have you learnt from that lesson? Do you realise where you have strayed and do you think that having learned from that next time you have that problem that you will deal with it in a more correct way and I tell you, you feel so small. Sometimes it would make you feel better, and that's all it does, it makes you feel better if somebody chastises you because you feel justification somehow. That your being has been purged because they have lowered themselves in a certain degree down to your level and purged you of the problem but if they give you love, if they give you blessings, then you feel that you've let them down. Yes you've let them down but they will never ever let you down. You will always have them by your side.

We know that.

I've been on holiday with you and our medium so that his guide could go to the Upliftment! There are no secrets when you are on holiday because I had nothing else to do so I may as well look into your auras. So I know all about everything!

Well you must know us very well now then Maurice.

Oh I don't know whether it was a good thing or a bad thing, but it is a fact that we have looked but we do not judge. It is a strange concept you know people look and they look at their guides, the people, the friends that come to meet you and they understand the concept that we can look into your aura and be aware of every thought, every emotion, every action that you've ever had throughout your existence and they suddenly become very self-conscious and guilty and think "oh my God", but we're not really Peeping Toms. We do it to have an understanding of the individual that you are dealing with because there's no point in trying to help someone unless you know them at the grass roots shall we say.

You probably understand us better than we understand ourselves.

You better believe it. I don't say that I accept or understand the logical but understand the physicality and how you attained the position that you are in at the moment. Yes that we understand, but we do not judge and that's the big difference. If you understood the emotions and the thoughts of your fellow being it's the essence of the material world that you then judge. You either put them down or you put yourself down because you feel that you are unworthy. We do none of that. We accept what you are and we look at how we can help to change your thinking, how to develop you, how to bring you forward. That we try and do.
