The Tragedy in New Zealand

By Estelle Roberts 2019

Something that I want to talk about is why do we consider that an individual is a problem. When you actually analyse it, we consider that people are a problem because they have a different agenda or a different perception of how things should transpire. And if people have a different perception then they carry things out in a different way, don't they?

I want to touch for a minute about that atrocity which happened in New Zealand. You see there is a situation where an individual considered that he or they were doing the correct thing. They were being soldiers, anti-Muslim soldiers if you understand, and therefore in their perception they considered that they were correct in what they were doing in the same way as the people from ISIS consider that what they are doing is justified.

How you can ever justify causing a problem and pain to another individual I just cannot conceptualise in my brain. How can you consider it justified to inflict pain and remove an individual from the Earth Plane? Individuals who had not completed their work on the Earth Plane. Each and every one which was and will be removed from the Earth Plane, because there will be a number more which are in the hospital at the moment, each and every one of them had not reached the end of their visit to the Earth Plane.

So when you look at that, you can see how what occurs in your life can sometimes be affected by the free will of another individual. And if that individual is being guided by misguided people from our side, it gives them a sense of correctness in what they are doing. And yet we look at it and we think how on earth can people consider removing somebody from the Earth Plane in such a way as being justified. It is never justified! It is never justified to (1) cause pain to another individual and (2) to remove them before their time is due. There are times when it is part of their Divine Plan that they be removed in a manner such as has occurred, but these are exceptions rather than the rule because it could be that it is a lesson for their loved ones and those surrounding them. This is not the case this time.

So it is really with a very heavy heart that their guides, their friends, were there to meet them and they were totally unready for the transition and more than half of them are still very much attached to the Earth Plane. In fact 75 to 80% of them are still attached to the Earth Plane because it was such a shock to the system. We will send more troops, so to speak, to help them with the transition. So please remember them in your prayers because all the love which can come from the Earth Plane can assist.

So many people are not praying with love for those who have been separated from the Earth Plane, instead they are praying with vengeance in their hearts for the perpetrators. It's very difficult to find forgiveness in your heart when you read or hear about such things is it not? It's very difficult to send love to the perpetrator, to ask for help for their mental imbalance. But that is what we all need to do and if we all do that, maybe the situation will have some redeeming features.

It upsets me greatly when I see unnecessary suffering on the Earth Plane. So we can all take a lesson from that. And the lesson that we take is the fact that we need to send love to those who have passed because their suffering is over and they will not have to, unless they want to, return to the Earth Plane due to their not covering the period of time that they were due to be on the Earth Plane. Do you understand what I'm saying?

Yes.

Because if you take your life yourself, which is a mortal sin, if you take your life yourself then you have to come back to the Earth Plane to overcome the problems which you perceived you were running away from.

And I'm going to tell you something which I don't know if you've ever been told before. If an individual commits suicide and say they have another 10 years left on the Earth Plane, or that is what was originally programmed, when they come back to the Earth Plane they don't come back for 10 years, they come back for 30 to 40+ years. Because they have to go through the whole lesson. They in fact come back to the Earth Plane and in excess of the time that they committed suicide.

Because you've all been told that people have to return to the Earth Plane to live out the time that they were cut short. But it's not only that time. They have to take it past the time of their decision. And I can assure you their suffering and their problems are going to be very similar but hopefully next time they have the wherewithal to overcome and they are put into a situation in a family where that support would be given.

So you can understand the logic there can you? It's not something that a lot of people have understood when we say that they have to come back to the Earth Plane to live out the time that they cut short. It doesn't end there.

So don't ever, and I know none of you here would ever be in that situation, but don't ever consider shortening the time that you have on the Earth Plane. It is not a brave act as so many people think. So many people say "I really take my hat off to them because they had the courage to commit suicide". What a lot of nonsense. It is courage not to commit suicide, not vice versa.

So look at people, try and help them when they are in a state of distress so that they don't come to that decision because the pain and problems that are left for their family and loved ones is enormous. And yet you feel that you are doing them a favour because you're taking your miserable life out of the equation. And I can assure you nothing could be further from the truth, nothing could be further from the truth at all.

So don't ever be of the misunderstanding and misconception that to shorten your time on the Earth Plane is anything other than one of the worse sins that you can commit. It is worse than inflicting pain upon another individual.

I'm sorry if I've touched a touchy subject and that people have a difference of opinion but what I'm telling you is the truth. And live your life in love and compassion for those who have been left behind. Send your prayers for all the families which have been left behind because they are the ones who are truly suffering now aren't they? They are the ones who have to continue their life with the knowledge that their loved one has been taken from them in such an unnecessary way.

And no, it wasn't perceived. It was free will and if we could have stopped it, we would have done. You see sometimes, and this is something that people get a misunderstanding, they say "Well if you knew it was going to happen why didn't you stop it?" And people who say that forget the one cardinal rule is that we are not allowed to interfere with free will. We can try and put obstacles in the way. We can try and change the way the people think, but more often than not they are being influenced by lower vibrational beings who have more control over their subconscious.

So give prayer for those family which are left behind because their grief is felt throughout the Summerland.
