Mixing with Different Vibrations

By Estelle Roberts 2019

Something that we all need to do is the fact that we need to accept the fact that things don't always happen the way we want it to happen.

A lot of the time your job is like that is it not my friend? You are placing the groundwork for future activity.

Yes.

That's a nice way of putting it. Well you are. You're placing the groundwork for making people feel at home and comfortable.

That's what I do best and hopefully that will work.

Yes. And that would be nice if we all did that with everything in our lives wouldn't it? And unfortunately that doesn't occur.

And I was a little bit cross with Roy you know.

Oh dear.

Well we told him that everything is sorted out with regard to the shop but that didn't mean he didn't have to do a little bit of work himself. And as a result he accepted the lies which he was being told. Do you understand? He accepted the lies because we told him that everything would be right. But the presumption of our saying everything would be right was that certain actions would occur on his behalf. And we all have that situation don't we? We think well they told us everything was going to be right so I may as well just sit back, sit back and let it all happen.

That is not the way life works my friends. That's not the way it's ever going to work. I mean if that was the way, Hugh would have been with me right until the end when we would depart at the same time wouldn't it? Hugh was my first husband, just as a memory jogger. But if he hadn't of passed over and come back and assured me that there was a continuation in life, I wouldn't necessarily have had the wherewithal to take it to the next stage.

And you see that's what we all have to do is to accept things as they are and change it if we possibly can. I do get on to a side-track don't I? Well that's the problem when I haven't really come to give you a talk because I don't want to interfere with what's been said by our previous visitor and I literally jumped at the opportunity to encompass the aura which was left behind. I thought other people have had the opportunity, it's my turn. And you know what it is when you're in the presence of somebody of infinite love and peace, you just want to stand within their aura don't you? You want to absorb the peace and the love which comes from them. It is a pity that within families we don't have that peace and love all the time isn't it?

And we all have that problem don't we? Yes. Relationships. I don't know why they call them relationships, they should call them a pain because a relationship indicates or infers peace and harmony doesn't it? And in a lot of cases nothing could be further from the truth. Because there are so many problems on the Earth Plane and a lot of them are caused by the misunderstanding of one individual to another. If we could all just be honest and share our true feelings that would be wonderful, but there is a presumption there which won't occur and that presumption is the individuals that we are dealing with are on the same vibrational level as we are.

And I want you to just think about that for a little bit. How many times is a problem, or should I say does a problem occur, because of the vibrational level that we are on we perceive that the other people should be on a similar wavelength? And therefore we can't comprehend how they could behave or react in a way which is foreign to ourselves.

Isn't that a wonderful state of affairs on the Earth Plane? You're all mixing with all these different vibrations. Oh what joy! Well it is if it is treated correctly because how we can prove the love that we have in our heart is by not responding and reacting in a way which they are responding and reacting. Because they are on a different wavelength, a different level of vibration. And I'm sure it works in reverse and people wonder how on earth we could think that way because it would never enter their mind.

I take the example which occurred many years ago and we had that mischievous being come in and occupy our medium when he wasn't invited. And it was never envisaged that it would occur but because our thinking could not delve to the depths of the individual that created the problem, it was totally outside our thought pattern.

Which is why when we go to different vibrations we have a tutorial with somebody who has been there so as we can understand the thought pattern of the individuals we are going to help. And wouldn't that be wonderful if you could actually get into the minds of all those who are creating negativity to us because if we could get into their minds we would know the way they are thinking wouldn't we? But that would be too easy wouldn't it? And as somebody said life was never meant to be easy. One of your Prime Ministers utilised that frequently did he not?

Yes.

And it was a true statement because life was not meant to be easy, that was the whole point of your visit to the Earth Plane. If life was meant to be easy you wouldn't be here.

The whole point of coming to the Earth Plane is the fact that life is different and therefore you could perceive that it is difficult, but it isn't difficult. Being difficult is a state of mind. We create that difficulty. If we do not allow the negativity to rankle then it is not a difficult situation, it's merely a situation which we have to resolve. There we go back to my old saying "We don't have problems, we have situations" because that is what we've got to do.
