Faith or Trust

By Estelle Roberts 2014

I've heard you say many times and it is quite right that we do move in strange ways don't we? But sometimes it's necessary to move in what you would classify as a strange way because different people require their lessons in a different way. Sometimes people can just be told and they will accept and move forward in the direction that we desired them to be.

I'm a great one to talk aren't I? I mean how much problem did Red Cloud have to convince me? You would say in this country that I was a little bit bloody minded wouldn't you?

Yes.

But that's the thing you know. You've got to be strong willed sometimes and that is a problem that we have with some of the mediums that we utilise because to attract the people, the beings of higher vibration, we require a channel, a medium, call him or her what you may, of a higher vibration themselves otherwise the link and the connection cannot be achieved. Do you understand?

Yes.

If you could have seen the multitude which had gathered this evening, for our previous visitor, you would have been as you say "gobsmacked". I haven't quite worked that Australianism out yet but I have heard it said. I would have said you would have been aghast, but as I have said in earlier talks we do try and utilise the colloquial sayings as much as possible because it makes people feel more connected. They don't feel that the individual who is speaking is too far above them so to speak. Do you understand? Because if you can talk to somebody on the same level then they feel comfortable and if you feel comfortable you're more likely to follow are you not?

Yes.

Otherwise you feel “Well that talk was for them. It's not really for me because I can't achieve that”. But if it's put in the colloquial framework then people think “well they're talking my language so obviously I should have the ability to achieve it.” It's all a mental process. When you consider that somebody who is relatively of your level has achieved an improvement to their being you feel that, well, if they can do it so can I. Whereas if the being is so obviously from a higher vibration you feel well there's no way in the world I could ever achieve that. So this is why we like to try and break down the barrier.

When you're on the Earth Plane you have to have faith or trust don't you? And there's a big difference between the two you know. The difference between faith and trust – they both have the same end – they both have the same result, but if you have faith you're having total blind trust or not really trust, total blind commitment to what somebody else is saying. But if you have trust you have a connection with that individual and therefore you know that individual would not guide you incorrectly and therefore you follow that individual willingly, not blindly, but willingly with total trust that as you move forward they will have you by the hand and if you cannot understand or accept something, then they will be there to explain. And that's what we want to do. We don't want you to follow the path in blind faith. We want you to follow the path because you trust us. You trust us to guide you in the right direction. You trust us with the knowledge that your and our interests are interlocked, that we proceed not only for the betterment of humanity but for the betterment of your being.

I've looked in all of your auras and to the great majority of time I have to commend you because you have a commitment, a commitment to accept where we are going far better than I ever did. But the big difference is that once I got that commitment and acceptance I never looked back. I then had 100% trust in my friend Red Cloud. If he had told me to jump off a cliff and all would be well I would have done it without a second thought. That is 100% trust is it not?

Yes.

And it is not something that can just be given out. It is something that has to be earned it is it not? And we know that you have to earn people's trust. It is an unfortunate thing that with a lot of people on the Earth Plane they feel that as soon as they come into contact with us that all their troubles will immediately disappear, that we will remove all obstacles which have been placed before them.

You've had two examples recently in your group, both of the individuals with different sets of circumstances but the bottom line was exactly the same. They expected things to transpire in a manner which they had anticipated. They had pre-thought on how things would transpire and when they didn't transpire in that manner they felt cheated and let down and in reality nobody had let them down, they had let themselves down because of their preconceived idea of how things should turn out. We have had other people who have come to our group with preconceived ideas that we would fit in with their perception of how and what will occur. This of course can never happen and therefore they were removed and they will move forward in their own way.

One of the things which we have to accept when we occupy a physical body. That all the problems of that physical body resonate within our being and I don't know if you've ever truly thought about that. That's why we prefer two things. We prefer either light trance because we do not have to physically occupy the body. We can merely utilise the aura and the conscious or subconscious of the medium being utilised, or the trumpet because obviously if we are utilising the trumpet none of the physical problems which are occurring within the medium resonate to our being. Not even the subconscious resonates within our being when we are using the trumpet. That is why I have requested that we return the trumpet and we will endeavour to get it moving. No promises but you can have my assurance that I will be doing my best endeavours to make sure it occurs.
