Putting up Blocks

By 2013 Maurice Barbanell

Something that a lot of people don't really think about is the fact that when you're teaching, when you're giving lessons, you have to entertain at the same time because if it isn't brought with a little bit of light frivolity you very quickly get bored don't you? I mean how often you have been to a lecture and he just goes rambling on and half the class goes to sleep. It happens does it not?

It does.

But we haven't had that and a lot of that is because of the control that Henry has in the background. That is something that would escape most people that as the control and that is what we would call him because he is actually young Roy's guide and therefore he controls what happens to his physical body. He doesn't stand too far away you know, so that if anything untoward happens he can step in and that's something I don't think anybody's ever thought about is it?

No, but it's good to know.

Yes but that is always the case and that is why when you go to a group, a home circle, they will immediately ask you who your control is and that is because the main guide for the individual is the one who generally gives the talks. So therefore we feel doubly privileged that we have been allowed to have the variety of speakers and the quality that we've had.

We have a slight problem, not as big a problem as you do Judith with young Roy. I mean you have to as they say in this country put up with it 24/7.

Very true.

Yes we have an enthusiasm and the enthusiasm has a tendency to create a block at times. I don't know if you've ever thought of it in that way, but you can get over enthusiastic about doing something and by your enthusiasm you actually fail to do all that you have to do to get to the end because you want to jump steps don't you? We get excited. We see the end goal and we don't want to go through the steps to get there. We just want to be at the end goal. Unfortunately it can't happen that way. None of us can achieve the end goal unless we put the effort in. It's a bit rough really isn't it? You'd think that our friends, your guides, could see our enthusiasm and therefore turn a blind eye and let a few steps be taken for us instead of by us. It all goes down to the Divine Plan and the Divine Plan will not allow this. It's a bit of a drag really isn't it? But we have to all put the effort in to get the result.

It is true with everything in life is it not? To really appreciate the end result you really appreciate it if you've actually put the effort in. If it's handed to you on a plate you don't have the same sense of achievement. You have an acceptance but you don't have the same sense of gratification, the same sense of satisfaction if you've actually worked for it, if you've actually put the effort in. So therefore do not try and predict or put restrictions on what and how the progress is going to be. We have to and this is something that we hadn't anticipated. We have to clear young Roy's mind to be able to get the clairvoyance and clairaudience through clearer. We didn't feel that it was important but it is important to him and therefore it is creating a block. Do you understand?

Yes.

And therefore we have to remove this block before we take the next step because if we don't there will be a resistance, mental resistance, when we move forward because when we move forward we have to have complete confidence of what is coming through and the communication.

Young Estelle when she was on the platform never ever doubted anything that Red Cloud had conveyed to her. The thought that there was any inaccuracy did not even enter her mind, but she could see clearly, she could physically see in her mind's eye what was being said and could hear in the same manner as you are hearing me now. We didn't think that this was important because it wasn't important to us so why should be important to him, but we have to be flexible as you say. We have to adapt our thinking to suit the product that we are dealing with. I don't think young Roy would like to be called a product do you?

Probably not.

No but you get the gist of what I am meaning.

Absolutely.
