Ego and the Great I Am in some Mediums

By Maurice Barbanell 2015

As you know we have classified our group, our teaching group, as the Maurice Barbanell home circle. There's been one point of absence with that statement though has there not? I have not had the ability to be with you as often as I would like.

We have decided, I say we but I say that it was decided and I was a party to the decision although not the decision maker, that it would be more beneficial as an acceptance that my friend Estelle be the forerunner at our meetings which are to come because she has a particular style, a particular way of conveying things, which is so different to our medium and myself.

Why would you consider that this is important? It is important because there will be constantly people in the audience whose sole desire is to denigrate and disprove and because I have been privileged with having an English accent and because I utilise the voice box of the physical body I am contained within at this point in time, the similarities could very easily be missed construed and twisted, whereas Estelle is so different in her tone and method of projection that it is not as easy to convey a problem should we say.

You learn a lot of patience, forgiveness and acceptance over here you know but the big difference is because some of us have progressed a little bit further to the line of purity should we say, that the negative thought of being displaced doesn't even enter the mind. We just accept the fact that the situation has changed and other parties are more suitable for the work we have to do and therefore we take a backstage position rather than a forward position. This is something that a lot of the psychics, so-called psychics and mediums that we utilise upon the Earth Plane could learn a great deal from. So often, and I obviously have been to many groups to assess the situation, so often it is about the medium, the great "I am", rather than the messages which are being delivered.

It is a strange concept is it not that we give out our teachings of love and tolerance and yet the people who you would think would absorb these philosophies would be the very vehicles which we utilise to deliver them would you not? Unfortunately this is not the case. Unfortunately that three letter word gets in the way so often. Obviously we are referring to ego, the great "I am". So often you have the situation where the medium would berate another because in their perception they do not have the faculties, the ability to transmit messages, the ability to see spirit, the ability to sense emotions, not in their esteemed opinion as high as they have themselves. This of course is a great negative to their progress.

So you might wonder why we persist in utilising such mediums, such vehicles and the answer to that is very simple. We utilise all and any channel that we can to get the message out. Once the message has been delivered, your guides, their guides, can instil upon your thinking that you require a change of direction so you then go looking until you find another group who is more in tune with your progress. Once you have finished with that group you might move forward once more.

Always remember that I and your spirit team, are always with you and our sole desire is for you to progress far in excess of the expectation when you entered the Earth Plane. Because if you take the opportunity you can achieve what would require two or three visitations and wouldn't that be wonderful to eliminate the need to revisit the Earth Plane? That is my true desire, to have each one of our chosen friends purified themselves to the point where there is no necessity to return to the Earth Plane for future progress.
