

InsightsFromSpirit

www.insightsfromspirit.com

The Gamble of coming to the Earth Plane

By Maurice Barbanell 2011

When I left the Earth Plane, because although we had all the teachings, although I had an understanding of the astral world, I truly could not comprehend the totality of what it is about. I had the advantage. I had been taken. I had been shown in my meditation and sleep state small sections of the Summerland but because the reality was not dramatically different from that of the Earth Plane I couldn't truly conceptualise the difference and therefore when the time came I was nervous, I was afraid. I was afraid because the physical world is what I had known for so long and it doesn't matter how uncomfortable your physical form happens to be at the time, you like to cling on to that which you know, that which you are comfortable with. You wonder after you have passed over, after you have passed forward into the astral, why on earth you wanted to stay as long as you did. Then the education, the enlightenment is given to you and you appreciate the lessons which you had to learn. You appreciate that you had been given the opportunity to move forward. Whether you have taken full use of these opportunities is entirely up to you.

Coming to the Earth Plane is one of the biggest gambles that you ever embark upon. It is the only situation in which you are gambling on the knowledge which you have within your being to be such as to enable you to improve. Your path in general terms is preconceived, but it is only preconceived in skeleton form. If it was not, what would be the purpose of free will? Your free will gives you the opportunity to advance or to retard. The opportunity is yours to take or not to take. Fortunately the vast majority of people who have elected to return leave the Earth Plane having learnt the lessons which they hoped to overcome and they advance accordingly in the vast majority of cases, not in all cases. At times people get mislead, get placed into a pathway in which misguided souls and beings can inflict their will and because their will is weak they succumb. They succumb to the temptations and the negativity of others and they denigrate their being and the spark of Divine Love which is within their being becomes dulled.

I know that the group we have together does not have any fear because each and every one of you have exceeded the task from which you hope to attain. But do not stand on your laurels. Having achieved it, the opportunity to advance is therefore far greater. You therefore have got the opportunity to move even further forward in purity of being than you had hoped to attain. So never ever be comfortable with the love which you have within you because we can all, each and every one of us, improve that spark of love. If this was not the case we would not have the necessity to occupy a physical body, an astral body, or a supernatural body. We would be as one with the Great Spirit or the Heavenly Host as you affectionately call them.

Thank you my friends.

Thank you Maurice.

*Maurice Barbanell
April 2011*