Faith, Confidence, Acceptance

So what's our goal? Well it is to return to the Seventh Plane. That's what we're all looking forward to are we not?

We can then say well I was right to have faith. I was right to have confidence. There's a small variation line between faith and confidence you know. What is the difference between faith and confidence? Faith is when you're not really sure but you're convinced that what they are telling you is right and therefore you accept it blindly. Confidence means that you accept what is going to happen because you have total acceptance, not faith, acceptance, of what you have been told and the help that can be given. One is faith, the other is acceptance. Initially it's got to start with faith but once you have been given the proof which you have all been given so many times have you not?

Yes.

Thank you. Then you should have confidence. I can get on my soapbox you know. I have been known to literally stand on the soapbox but that's what we are looking for in each and every one of you, not faith. We should all have gone past that. What I want, what we want, I nearly put myself in the driver's seat there didn't I? What we all want is your confidence. Confidence in the movement that we are doing, confidence in what we are saying, confidence in what we are doing and when I say we, I mean all of us.

I thought we were.

You are erring at times and when you err that means your confidence is lacking because if you have confidence in what's being said.....

I think it's just weariness sometimes. I'm guilty only because I'm too tired, but it doesn't diminish.

We all get tired my girl.

But our confidence doesn't diminish. I didn't think it diminished.

No, you have to rethink and bring yourself back do you not? And that's why we have to have a bit of a gee up because we all need to be reminded at times.

Yes. I'm in this physical I need a reminder every now and again.

Yes, we all do. That's why we come you know. Not only to jibe you, although you might feel that at times. It's merely a reminder jog shall we say. We know because we can see within your auras that each and every one of you have accepted and improved the way you look at life and the way you look at people since we have been together and that gives us great joy because from that lesson that you are giving out, the improvement that you are giving, means that we are not wasting our time, I don't mean that in a bombastic way because even if we were wasting our time we would still come, but the very fact that our teachings and our messages are getting through that then makes it worthwhile and why do you think you have the teachers that come through to you? Only because they can see the effort that you are all putting in and therefore it's a reward and when you get rewarded, we get rewarded. So purely on a selfish basis, keep improving! You understand where I'm coming from, because if you didn't have the love and the acceptance that you do, we wouldn't get the privilege of having the teachers that we are getting. So purely on a selfish point of view, keep moving! Keep improving!

I was very touched by a small part of a talk that Estelle gave when she reminded everybody that we all have a long way to go and that not one of us have achieved the level of purity and love required. That's a total misconception because a lot of people have reached that level of purity you know. Some of these people come to the Summerland and many more who teach in the Fourth and Fifth Planes have reached that level of purity. You do realise that the people who consider they are the most enlightened on the Earth Plane still look at it as a separation, as an "us and them", rather than we're all part of the same. And that's true and there's very few groups that exist on the Earth Plane who truly break that barrier between spirit and physical. They still look at it as us and them, and to a great extent I'm pleased to say our group don't have that barrier and that has taken a bit of time to break it down has it not?

Yes.

We are no different to you and you are no difference to us. The only difference between you and us is that you have a physical body and we don't, and the only way you have to accept that difference is that once you remove the physical body you then become exactly as we are. And I say we because we are in the astral sphere and we have to accept that we are exactly the same as the people in the supernatural sphere. And that for the people in the Summerland is as difficult a concept as the people on the Earth Plane having to accept that the difference between the Earth Plane and the Summerland is non-existent and then you have to accept that the difference between the Summerland and beyond is no different.
