

www.insightsfromspirit.com

Our Guides' Connection to Us

By Maurice Barbanell 2012

It's time for old friends is it not? We do have that problem in our lives that we get disconnected and when we get disconnected it's very difficult to get back.

I'm still a person you know Judith (my wife was still in awe of the fact that Maurice was actually attending our circle as she had always held him up on a pedestal). I'm not a myth and occasionally you do actually pick up my book I understand. I have actually seen it. It leaves the bookcase.

Yes it did last weekend.

I know I was there and I thought, well I don't know what I thought, wow, she's actually getting a little bit of genuine knowledge. That's after all what we come for isn't it?

We do try and accommodate the wishes of the people in our group you know. That is something that a lot of people don't really appreciate or understand that our sole desire is not only to give you knowledge and knowledge is something that we all strive to achieve isn't it? And as our learned friend said once, we've got the knowledge and we then turn it into wisdom and take that knowledge into our being and then share it with others. That's what knowledge is all about. So therefore we do try where we can.

Our medium had a problem, but he doesn't have it anymore, because he's given up. He always used to try and predict or request who was coming.

Yes he did.

Yes and then we totally confused him and told him names and they didn't come and therefore he decided that this was a superfluous exercise, but we do tell him occasionally now. As I'm a deputy to our medium's guide I feel a certain claim on this physical body. (Maurice asked and was granted a vibrational connection to our medium, similar to the connection his guide Henry has.)

It is a strange thing you know when you become a guide or a deputy guide, you then become attached to the individual and to a certain degree their aura. Their being is very much part of your aura and your being and therefore I am living the problems that he's living. Sometimes I wish he didn't have the problems that he has and then I would have a lot nicer time wouldn't I, but there are also the pluses because you then get the pleasures and the joys and the positive nature of that being and they then also become part of our aura, part of our connection. So don't look at it as a problem with being a guide because it isn't only a problem. It is a problem when people don't listen. It is a problem when we can see our charges not following the right path and there's nothing we can do about it but then when they fall down, we then, like any parent, you pick them up, you brush them down and kiss them better and you put them back on the right path. That's what we do.

The one big thing that we have to learn before you can become a guide is that you can't have the negative trait which is very evident on the Earth Plane and that is to judge. We don't have that privilege you see. Any indiscretion that you have we have to accept as being part of your being. We can then try and correct it or turn you in the right direction but we can't be judgemental about the negativity that you have, the negativity that you have created. That's something that if the people of the Earth Plane could only instil it in their beings it would make life a lot happier wouldn't it.

Maurice Barbanell
September 2012